

Equal competition for local internet access is important to us. In order for competition to continue to exist we believe that the existing rules requiring local phone companies to provide access and unbundled services to competing ISP's should be maintained.